Featuring over 800 nude photographs of 35 different women, Naked Coast to Coast follows the latest journey of acclaimed erotic photojournalist Andrew Einhorn as he explores the beautiful, exotic and diverse women of New York and San Francisco.

Naked Coast to Coast chronicles Andrew Einhorn's first two seasons on the hit Playboy TV reality series, "Naked Happy Girls." The smart, sexy show followed Einhorn on his search for beautiful, everyday women willing to bare their body and soul for his camera. With each episode Einhorn gave viewers a sneak peak into the lives of these wonderful women: their apartments, their personalities, and even their sexuality.

The women featured in Naked Coast to Coast are not professional models, but they are, in their own way, gorgeous. There's Bast the tantric yoga teacher; Angie the nurse; Natalie the ballerina; Talia the lawyer; Ashlee the poet; Kate the NFL cheerleader; Robin the photographer; Tracie the clothing designer; Sativa the exhibitionist, Jamaica the hot-rod mechanic, and many more. Woven together, they make a tantalizing tapestry of American beauty.

The distinctive layout of Naked Coast to Coast has two spectacular covers: Iris on a boat in front of the Statue of Liberty on one side, and Haleigh on a beach with the Golden Gate Bridge in the background on the other. It is designed as a "flip book," and turns over in the middle, separating the New York and San Francisco sections. With an introduction by sex educator and author Jamye Waxman, M.Ed., this book will surely delight Andrew Einhorn's longtime followers as well as his newly indoctrinated fans.

This is Einhorn's third book, and continues his tradition of turning beautiful, every-day women into relaxed, comfortable, naked happy girls. It is part of his ongoing series of books and videos, which includes Naked Happy Girls (2003) and Bubble Bath Girls (2006).
